Port board views county bean crop

Soy beans, being grown with in the county in increasing quantities, may provide the first solid income for the proposed Port and Harbor complex at Mulatto Bayou near Pearlington.

Commissioners, meeting Thursday, heard D.P. Westfall, director of the Port of Victorburg, explain how an elevator complex could give the Hancock County project its initial impetus.

In addition Westfall suggested consideration be given to installing other facilities to handle bulk type cargoes such as grain and petroleum. "It would be about $400 cheaper per barge load to move such cargoes from Hancock County to New Orleans than from Pascagoula to New Orleans," said Westfall.

He pointed out that the vast majority of tonnage handled in Pascagoula is for transshipment to the Louisiana city.

The port facilities of New Orleans are overcrowded and a port and harbor complex in the southwest area of Hancock County could reap dividends from the situation, he explained.

Progress towards fulfillment of the port project is running into snags, however. It was revealed that the bonding attorney had, so far, failed to give approval to a proposed $975,000 bond issue. The monies so raised to be used to purchase port lands and commencing development.

In a letter to the attorney, Carl Trauernicht of Charles and Trauernicht in St. Louis, Mo., Lucien Cox, attorney for board of supervisors, who have approved the bond issue requested some explanation for the delay or a report of progress. In an attempt to clarify any bond retirement funds, Cox, in his letter said in part, "hear in mind the board is willing to issue unlimited of valorem bonds but hopes to retire the issue with millage levies above mentioned." This referred to the letter's previous paragraph which confirmed the bond issue would be retired by

150-bed hospital seen for county

Dreams of a 150-bed hospital aren't just dreams any more as far as trustees of Hancock General are concerned.

Dr. M.L. McFarland told the board last Wednesday night they'd better start thinking fast about an addition in anticipation of "medicare" next July 1 or else despite the 12-bed addition, now under way, there won't even be room for an emergency appendectomy.

After numerous observations on the evaluations, trustees directed Administrator

Thomas O. Legas to get hospital consultants in for the survivors on planning needs. Thoughts ran along the lines of converting the present building into a convalescent wing with a multi-story facility where the County Home now stands.

The federal government will provide up to 95 per cent of the funds for a nursing wing, McFarland advised. He said the local medical staff already had met and decided on the procedure with chronic cases so as not to overcrowd facilities, but that was no guarantee as what might happen "across the bridge."

Partly in anticipation with what may transpire from the Medicare impact the board voted to create positions for pharmacists, purchasing agent and medical records clerks, as recommended by the administrator.

Mrs. Barbara Winkler, who has been with the hospital, will join Hancock General staff Jan. 15 on purchase.

Wland ponders on new town hall aid

Waveland Town Council pondered chances of federal aid for a new town hall-community center and financing its proposed $1,375,000 coverage program at a recessed meeting Tuesday night with B.M. Dornblatt, consulting engineer.

Dornblatt finally was authorized to apply through two possible sources for the new town building money with the understanding he is to not compensate until the town actually decided to go ahead with such a project.

On the cover question the mayor and board of aldermen concurred with his advice to wait until additional federal aid sources open up, possibly in January, before taking any firm action on bonds for that project.

They did instruct Lucien W. Cox, Jr., town attorney, to prepare a local and private bill for presentation to the 1966 session of the state legislature giving Waveland the option of refunding its outstanding revenue bonds. This is in case the water and gas system bonds have to be recalled to provide a broader base on which to service the sewer program.

Bill Beck from a firm of New Orleans bond attorneys consulted informally with council on sewer bond outlook for the town. He warned that the proposed maximum on monthly sewer charges and service costs on the estimate of 1,000 customers could make for mighty close corners in amortizing an issue for $1,150,000 from local sources.

Alderman John Longo, Jr., inquired how much two big apartment houses with about 150 customers each would be charged. Dornblatt explained they could either be assigned a commercial rate or have separate water and sewer meters for each unit. "It would help a lot," Beck added.

Dornblatt, architect of the town's zoning ordinance, replied that while he'd like to see additional customers to finance the utility program, he opposed apartments on the beach front. Two such proposals are in the offing but the area is zoned single family residential.

Chances that the federal government would buy the bond issue also were discussed with Beck contending that raises the costs and multiple administrative procedures.

Mayor Garfield Ledner and Longo arranged to meet Eli Abbott from Dornblatt's Gulfport office in Jackson Friday to explore funds for a new town hall with Kenneth Phillips, state civil defense director. Dornblatt explained the federal government will match up to 50 per cent on a building that doubles as an emergency operating center or fallout shelter for civil defense. Aid also is possible through the Housing and Home Finance Administration.

While Longo indicated support of this project to help entice more business to Waveland, Alderman Dominick Sonier questioned spending the money with other obligations pressing. Dornblatt suggested that the federal government is

Fresh funds found for beach repairs

Two more avenues to restore Hurricane Betsy's damage to Hancock County were opened this week.

The board of supervisors at its meeting Monday learned that the Office of Emergency Planning has approved a grant of $24,500 under Public Law 875 for repair of public facilities and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads has accepted restoration of the beachfront road on a 50-50 matching basis.

Supervisors promptly approved the State Highway Department's grant and road division directions on Beach Blvd. work and directed County Engineer George Wier to program it. Then they asked their concern about whether Wier can move the job along with two other state aid projects in the county now pending.

"We can't drag our feet on this if we expect to get anything out of it," observed Beat 2 Supervisor Delph Keller. H. G. Doss of Beat 1 suggested Wier be assigned the job on a commission basis so he can speed the work with the force in his Jackson office.

"We've got $2,370 worth of engineering fees in November alone," Keller noted, adding, "We can't afford to keep that up." Wier gets $35 a day for work over and above his normal monthly fee of $250.

It was not described in the letter from Frank T. Moor, state aid engineer for the highway department, now engineering costs on the beach road job are to be paid.

At the onset of the meeting R.G. Hubbard of Beat 5, president of the board, reported Wier had called in that morning, announced approval of federal aid on the job, and asked the board to accept it and authorize him to proceed. That was done immediately and the supervisors studied the letter later.

The federal grant requires the county to put up 50 per cent of the funds from local sources. State aid funds are not permitted on this type of work. No estimate of the cost is known at this time, it appears.

After the "permanent restoration" is programmed, the bureau of roads will authorize seeking bids which are to be tentatively accepted by the supervisors, subject to concurrence by the bureau. Then the county is to forward to the state treasurer a warrant for its 50 per cent.

Dean proposed that the county think about hard-surfacing the whole beach road, rather than simply fixing damaged slabs as had been indicated in the engineer's estimate of necessary repairs.

Hubbard contended blacktopping would not work because of the possibility of individual slabs dropping from position. This, he said, would not be feasible.

Notice of the $23,559 grant came from Kenneth P. Phillips, state civil defense director who has been processing the CEP (Cont. on Page 4-A.)

$38.7 thou. line cost paid by school board

Two new teachers for the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School System were approved by the trustees Monday night. Mrs. Janice Hawkins is being added to the staff at North Bay Elementary to teach one 7th grade class. Miss Betty C. McAnis will teach a fourth grade class at Volcano C. Jones.

Subject to final construction figures the school board agreed to reimburse Bay St. Louis $38,714 as its share of the expense to extending water, gas and sewerage outside the city to the new high school now being constructed.

Superintendent Jas D. McCullough explained the municipal system probably could obtain federal funds under public Law 815 for additional equipment and remodeling. If it gets it at all, the system will obtain those funds for each student whose parents work for the United States above the number so classified in the base period, 1962-3.

In this connection there has been an increase in this category of 12 among the county system students who actually attend the municipal system. However, the federal government will not make a grant toward this group, about $5,000, unless the city system agrees

Om county schools Call for re-bid

Facing criticism from Logtown at the close of this school year, county school trustees Wednesday voted Saturday to re-auction for bids on construction projects at Pearlington, Gulfport and Hancock North Central Schools.

No bidding to construct $370,000 of buildings with a maximum of $810,000 in the long, trustees took the alternative of making one more attempt to make one more bid. The new bids will include alterations on heating and sewerage disposal systems and electrical improvements.

In their review of the subject trustees heard from both Fred Wagner, their architect, and John S. McCormick, a consulting engineer of Gulfport and New Orleans.

Much of the latter's talk concerned alternate heating systems with favor being expressed towards the proposed hot water system planned for Pearlington. Citing other educational plant's heating maintenance problems McCormick said the hot water system gave far less trouble than individual room heaters and that the initial cost was comparable.

In stating he would prepare the requested mechanical and electrical work alternates for the re-bid Wagner pointed out that every day counts if the Pearlington school is to be finished for September. "All these alternates have to be approved by the state," said Wagner, "and a re-bid date issued by T.M. Naylor of the state education finance commission in Jackson."

Acknowledging that under their present $11.50 - $12 per square foot building price certain features had been provided for later expansion Wagner warned the board that the cost of adding four more rooms at a later date to either Pearlington or Gulfport may prove prohibitive if the electrical and mechanical systems have to be re-done to accommodate the

Remind taxpayers on Betsy losses

Taxpayers in the Mississippi Gulf Coast area who have sustained losses as a result of Hurricane Betsy may have casualty losses deductible for income tax purposes, Herman Logue, designated representative of the Mississippi City Office of Internal Revenue Service, reminded this week.

Since casualty loss deductions, like other income tax deductions, must be substantiated, taxpayers should at this time start accumulating the necessary records to establish the amount of their deductible losses. A taxpayer claiming a casualty loss may be called upon to show:

1. The nature of the casualty and when it occurred;
2. That the loss was the direct result of the casualty;
3. That he was the owner of the property;
4. That the cost or other basis of the property, evidenced by purchase contract, deed, etc., improvements should be supported by checks, receipts, etc.;
5. Depreciation allowed or allowable, if any;
6. Values before and after casualty; and
7. The amount of insurance or other compensation received or expected to be received for damages to the property, including the value of repairs, restoration, and clean-up provided without cost by disaster relief agencies or others.

In general, the amount of a casualty loss for income tax purposes is the lesser of (1) the decrease in fair market value resulting from the casualty or (2) the adjusted basis of the property (cost, less depreciation allowed or allowable).

In some cases repair and cleaning-up costs may be used as evidence of the decrease in value of the property if (1) they are necessary to restore the property to its pre-casualty condition, (2) the amount spent for repairs is not excessive, (3) they do not more than take into account the damage suffered, and (4) the value of the property after repairs is no more than its value before the casualty.

Amounts expended for protection against future casualties are not deductible but should be capitalized as permanent improvements.

The amount of the casualty loss, computed in accordance with the foregoing rules, must be reduced by the amount of any insurance or other compensation received or expected to be received. Amounts received from an employer or from disaster relief agencies, Bear crop...

A local 2 mill levy and 2 mills assessed from the state under the act authorizing the creation of the Port and Harbor Commission.

A price order to International Paper Co., owner of the Mississippi Bayou area lands, was directed to the state joint meeting with the board of supervisors.

Commissioner Edward Schuchman then withdrew his motion recommending to the supervisors that any offer made for this land shall not exceed $100 per acre.

Mrs. Hino, honorary board secretary, directed the widow of such a motion before motion to purchase become available anything that it may be a mistake to have such a motion on the minutes and that the commission may have to back-track later.

Schuchman had wanted to have such a record, however, stating that the board had back-tracked but was the power of eminent domain, to make the lands immediately available, and let the state decide on the price.

On the question of the county airport, also being handled by the joint group, Dr. A.J. Marshall, president, said to have been in contact with Cecil Palmer, Jr. Michael Baker, Inc., architect, the commissioner's engineers, and have told the final study was in an advanced stage of preparation. Approval had been obtained to use NASA funds in the buffer zone, as called for at the favored site 2, and commissioners agreed to submit the final plan to the board of supervisors and ask for a special meeting of that body to discuss all together.

In the time of each or property for the purpose of recovering or reimbursing property lost or damaged in a disaster, reduce the amount of the deductible loss.

There is a limitation on the amount of deduction which you may claim. The computed amount of each loss is allowed only to the extent that such amount exceeds $100. The $100 limitation would apply to both husband and wife filing a joint return, or if they filed separate returns, then each individual would be subject to a $100 limitation for each casualty loss. This limitation does not affect losses incurred in a taxpayer's trade or business or in connection with transactions entered into for profit. Such losses will continue to be fully deductible.

For more information, taxpayers who sustained hurricane losses should obtain a copy of Document 5174 or call the Mississippi City office at telephone number 663-6582 and 663-6583.

bill each patient every Friday a list of average hospital costs for frequent illness is to be compiled by the physicians who are to notify patients of these facts, and doctors are not to discharge patients after 2 p.m. and to discourage Sunday discharges because of billing.

In addition a receipt book and locked cash box is to be placed in the emergency room for collections there. Doctors are to be pushed to submit illness diagnoses within seven days so insurance claims can be processed and a collection agent is to be hired. Past due bills are to be handled after six months by the collector on the basis of three per cent for six months to one year; five per cent for one to two years; 10 per cent for two to three years; and 25 per cent over three years. The collector is also to take over the $33,000 recently written off the books.

Trustees occupied with appreciation the annual activities report of its auxiliary which was presented by Mrs. A.M. Ortiz, president of the Pink Ladies. Mrs. Ortiz asked trustees to consider establishment of a gift shop in the hospital which the auxiliary could operate to raise additional funds for service projects. One proposal for space is to be checked out with the medical staff.

The Pink Ladies had donated $400 toward purchase of a new ECG machine and bids on it were opened during the meeting. Bld of McKee Medical Supply Co. of New Orleans, represented by Ray Schell of Bay St. Louis, was judged the lowest and best of five. His price was $700 less one per cent for each and a $200 trade-in allowance on the old machine. With the auxiliary's contribution that let the hospital with less than $100 to pay for it.

Joe E. Deschamps, president, conducted the session attended by a bare group of Deschamps, J.C. Marbury and Mrs. Ward. Trustees Richard and Clifton Sauter were ill in the hospital and therefore they were absent.

ing agent-pharmacist, Logue noted this will soon be a 60-bed hospital and suggested his duties cover all purchasing except food. Trustee John D. Rutherford, Jr., observed that about 50 per cent of the nursing director's time was occupied by drug salesman and it seemed a good idea to put some one in charge of that phase.

McFarland reported the medical staff had discussed setting up a pharmacy committee and more efficient operation of this department should pay for the job. He said he would bet the drug room has about $65,000 worth of goods on the shelf, at least $15,000 of it being the same basic drug but under different brand names.

Logue also discussed his plans for handling housekeeping when Mrs. Samantha Kellings on limited service in January and retires in May. He suggested Paul Henley take on these duties in addition to his present maintenance job.

Costs which efforts to attract registered nurses for hospital posts were reported by the administrator. He reported addition of two to the staff and said a Cuban male radiologist is due early in 1966 with the possibility of a woman radiologist also. After they clear immigration in Florida they will receive money for transportation here. After prospects for director of nursing have been interviewed and Logue said anyone hired will be taken before the applications resulting from Betsy. The grant is for other county roads damaged by the hurricane, debris removal not on the beach and other qualifying damages.

MacDonald Hubbard reported difficulties arising from Sunday's rainfall in providing an all-weather road into the Jackson Ridge dump for the U.S. Corps of Engineers' contractor clearing Betsy's debris from the beaches. The Corps had indicated it would have to hold up bids on the job until the road is made passable. Hubbard told his colleagues he got to work on fixing the strip last Monday as soon as he learned who owned the property.

The Engineers are to open bids today for debris removal from the beaches. The Corps also will handle repairs to the seawall proper but is waiting for reconstruction plans on the seawall road to tie in with that work.

The 12-bed addition should be completed in about four months and ready to admit patients in the spring.

Red alert issued by Health board

Plastic tea balls, imported from Hong Kong and sold in several retail outlets, have been condemned by the Mississippi State Board of Health.

The vinyl-colored balls, which have a tendency to crack open on freezing, contain a contaminated liquid which leaks into food and drink during the melting process.

Wayne Allmon, Hancock County Board of Health commissioner, stated Wednesday that sample tea balls tested in Jackson have been found to be grossly contaminated.

"All stores are urged to remove them from the market and people who have already acquired this product are urged to discontinue usage," said Allmon.

While in Jackson to pick up the town's check for $97,000 for Betsy's repairs, the group also is to see officials of the State Highway Department about financing reconstruction of the Waveland arterial gas line where Interstate Highway 10 will cross it. Council had gone on record opposing being charged for the work last week but Douglas disclosed Tuesday he told the town would be reimbursed for the work.

Aldermen asked their committee to check on requirements for being designated a city rather than a town, noting considerable growth in the last few years. They also checked into the zoning ordinance on how to handle hearings for changes in zoning before recording until 7:30 p.m. Dec. 23 to pay town employees before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Church, Jr., of Komer, La., a girl Lisa Kathryn weighing eight pounds nine and a half ounces, born Dec. 9 in Gulfport Memorial Hospital. Grandmother is Mrs. W.P. McCutcheon, Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Church also of Bay St. Louis.

day. All of the Pendergast's personal possessions were lost when their St. John Starliner was gutted by fire two weeks ago Monday, and with four little ones, it couldn't have happened at a worse time. Despite the loss, we've never known anyone to take such pleasing more bravely than did this family, and it might be nice if some Christmas Eve party would select just one small toy each as an official donation. Ages of the three boys are nine months, seven and seven and the little girl is four.

Life began officially for Bud Phillips when he was fixed on the occasion of his 'you know' party at his home Saturday, Dec. 11. Wife, Dot, and Aunt, Stella Gou, had prepared all sorts of delicacies and he received congratulations and gifts from a large number of relatives and friends.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - Girls, still dashing all over the place in shorts; swarms of Christmas shoppers attempting to shake packages from persistent rain, even larger swarms of mosquitoes, flying around despite the fact they should have been long gone and the sound of their shrill buzzing blending in with the happier tunes of Yuletide carols.

Farewell

A reluctant farewell is on the way to Mary and Bob Sullivan, transferred by Bob's firm, Lovell and Klovitt, to Houston, Tex.

Despite refusal of the elements to cooperate, there were numerous flower lovers at Elaine Colson's Bay Waveland Florist Shop grand opening. Delicious punch and cookies were served. Winners of the five dollar prizes were Mrs. Earl Lechner, Ann (Mrs. Ed) Porter, Foy (Mrs. Martin) Markel, Clara Kergosien and Susan Wood. Gail Mollara drew names of lucky ladies.

One of the nicer pre-holiday affairs was the recital hosted by Mrs. Robert Teague for her pupils and parents Sunday afternoon. Her Sandy Street home was beautifully decorated and fruit cake, cookies and punch, served to the guests. Some performing included Martha Lynch, Kathy Saux and Peggy Hans.

Bride elect Elaine Woodcock was honored at a shower last Wednesday night at the home of attractive Japanese born neighbor, Utika (sorry, pal, we just forgot to ask your last name), by Wavelanders, Catherine (Mrs. Bradley) Mazarakis, Tootsie (Mrs. Dominick) Souler and Norma (Mrs. Tommy) Karl. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by the 40 guests, who in turn admired lovely and useful gifts.

Help

We're hoping everyone will turn out for the benefit for Modeline and Louis Pendergast and family to be held at Jenny and Frank Trepani's Knock-Knock at 7:30 p.m. on Monday.

Polly peers

Kathy not only collected most coupons in the recent drive but also sold the largest number of Christmas cards.

Gerri and Sam Blanchard and Betty and Fred Rose were among those from here who helped Ruth and Matt Ballatin celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary at a large party in the Blue Room of the Roosevelt last Saturday.

Observing double anniversaries on Sunday, were Pat and Larry Smith and Helen and Charles Carver. It was Pat and Larry's 11th and Helen and Charles' 20th.

John Glover is in line for a happy birthday greeting having cut his 'Dixie' cake on Monday, Nov. 29. Jimmy McDonald also celebrated on the same date.

Season closed

Well everyone may now relax. Roy Scott has called an official end to hurricane season by finally removing the wood work from his display windows. Incidentally, the Saux family, Roy, Kate, Bobby, Kathy and Barry spent Thanksgiving in the Crescent City.

Whoops

Clifton (best known as Toby) Piazza, at least has no such worries. He came out second best when he tumbled into a water pump on a tug the week before last. No splint, and also no middle finger on his right hand. He considers himself most fortunate, however, as his whole hand was not only pretty badly mangled, but also filled with grease, but it's healing nicely with out a trace of infection. Jerilyn and Buddy Wilson and daughter Michele were set-

Sportsman stricken on fishing trip

Radio communication between the 31st fishing club and the Bay St. Louis police station played an important role in locating a sportsman who was out on a fishing trip last Sunday. L.S. (Doc) Gillett, local newspaper columnist and sports writer, out with Scott and Meyer John Scott, was taken ill at approximately 2:45 p.m. just after the boat reached its fishing location at Jack Williams Bay, four miles from the lighthouse at Grand Pass, south of Bay St. Louis. Immediately contacting shore via channel 12 citizens band radio, Scott requested medical assistance and emergency treatment advice.

Dr. John B. Levens, chief of staff at Hancock General Hospital, took the relayed call and after listening to an outline of symptoms relayed medical advice. After explaining how to make the patient as comfortable as possible under the circumstances Levens decided that unless further developments took place the stricken man could best be returned to shore on board the vessel but other units should be alerted in the event of adverse developments.

Bert St. Clair, local civil defense director, contacted the Coast Guard which, in turn, steered a medical officer and the cutter Point Astro in Gulfport and a helicopter, with another doctor, in New Orleans.

Conducting half hourly checks on Elliott's pulse and taking note of other observations requested by the medical force, Scott kept those on shore advised via radio at 30 minute intervals. The boat finally made its moorings at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club at 5:10 p.m. and Elliott was whisked away to Hancock General in an ambulance called by the civil defense. He was transferred to a New Orleans hospital for further check on Monday where his condition is reported as satisfactory.

Assisting in maintaining radio contact were Tony Benigno and Edgar M. Ladner, duty firemen. LEGAL NOTICES County, Mississippi, to the undersigned upon the estate of Dall Sanders Pilcher, deceased, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against said estate to present the same to the Clerk of said Court for Probate and registration according to law within six months from this date, or they will be forever barred. ## Rivals see Bay put 3 Tigers in tank

Bay High's greatest made it come in a row this season in the Tiger gym Friday evening by rolling over highly-touted Hammond of Fulton, 72-58. The game ended up as another good work-out for coach Wilmer Symmes' subs.

Tiger rosters had plenty to cheer about as the local kids and locals took all ends of the triple-header, the Tigercats grounding St. John's Eagles, 40-29, while the B-team capped the opener from the Gulfport squad, 32-40.

Spectators were treated to an amazing performance by six-foot Karon McKay who scored 23 of St. John's 29 points, the only other tally being a free throw by Louie Rouse. Bay High's coaching staff all agreed this is one of the outstanding girl players in the state.

Pat Pernicelli led the Tigercats with 18 points and Ann Portine scored six. Defensive stars were Ellen McDonald who also hit for six and Brenda Nocella. Cathy Wyman and Nancy McDonald two apiece. As usual the Tigercats had to come from behind, St. John taking the first quarter 12-3 but the local boys went ahead to stay in the second frame taking the final three periods 11-8, 11-7 and 13-2.

It was evident from the opening buzzer that Iwamba was no match for the strong Tiger five although the Indians have scalped some good teams on their tour of southern Mississippi, including St. Martin, 58-39 on Thursday, holding the Yellow Jackets scoreless in the third period.

Although the Tigers could use a little more height, they displayed brilliant team work and coach Symmes has concentrated on passing five good men instead of depending upon one or two stars. Even defensive players are good shooters as evidenced by the record
